

NEW ORDER Update

Number 15

15 October 2020 / JdF 131

"My knowledge of pain, learned with the saber, taught me not to be afraid. And just as in dueling when you must concentrate on your enemy's cheek, so, too, in war. You cannot waste time on feinting and sidestepping. You must decide on your target and go in."

— Otto Skorzeny

Now Is the Time!

We have heard from many comrades over the years who have told us that they choose to remain inactive and maintain a low profile for the time being, but that when the time is right they will step forward and take an active role in the racial struggle. Now that moment has arrived!

More than any time since the late 1960s, American Whites are racially and politically engaged. A majority of the White population is disgusted by the anti-White protests and riots that the country has endured since May – and they are equally disgusted by the weak response to the violence by the government on all levels. Now, more than any time in the last 50 years, they are in a state of mind that is intellectually, psychologically and emotionally receptive to a National Socialist outreach.

As Otto Skorzeny suggests, now is the time to "stop feinting and go in!"

We certainly understand that many comrades do not want to participate in public activities that would put them (and their families) in danger at home, or that would result in loss of employment, or in other negative consequences. Still, there is much that every National Socialist can do without placing themselves in constant danger.

One thing every comrade can do is to download leaflets from our website Leaflet Library for low-key distribution in White areas. Another activity in which everyone can take part is to put up stickers...

NEW ORDER Stickers Now Available!

Enclosed with this issue of the NEW ORDER UPDATE are sample copies of stickers that we now have in stock. The cost is 12 cents per sticker, any quantity, with a minimum order of 10 stickers. Price includes postage.

These are the first stickers that the NEW ORDER has issued since the mid-1980s. We have designed them to (1) draw attention to our core message; and (2) direct people to our website. No one is going to be converted to our cause by a single sticker – but a sticker can plant an idea in their minds and it can lead the curious to our website, where serious racial education can take place.

Regarding the distribution of stickers, the Central Office has issued the following guidelines:

(1) As in the past, the NEW ORDER is committed to a path of legal struggle. Accordingly, we hereby formally instruct all comrades to obey all local laws and ordinances in posting or distributing these stickers.

(2) Some comrades may remember the old Swastika stickers we had back in the days of the ANP/NSWPP. These had inflammatory slogans on them, such as "Who Needs Niggers?", "Hitler Was Right!", and "America for Whites! Africa for Blacks!" These old stickers were frankly marketed as "hell-raisers," and their purpose was to draw attention to the Movement and to agitate our enemies. That was then and this is now. Our purpose today with stickers is in keeping with our overall strategy, which is to attract racially-conscious Whites to National Socialism. Our goal is not publicity-seeking as an end in itself, nor is it to agitate the anti-Whites, who, in any event, are already in a high state of agitation.

Within these guidelines, we encourage the maximum distribution of stickers, as well as leaflets, message cards and whatever other printed materials we may issue in the future.

As always, we request photos of your activism for use in our public outreach efforts.

Edmond Morrison (1949-2020)

We were very sorry to learn of the death of Edmond Morrison earlier this year. Comrade Morrison died following a fall in his home on June 10, a month before his 71st birthday on July 16. He was a leading National Socialist activist and organizer in Great Britain, and he was a friend of the NEW ORDER.

Eddy first became politically active with the National Front in the late 1960s. Over the decades he was affiliated with numerous National Socialist and White Nationalist organizations, some of which he founded himself. When participating in non-NS formations, he always upheld National Socialist ideology and endeavored to pull the group in question towards National Socialism. Although he was an intelligent man who was interested in ideas, poetry and art, he was not afraid to take part in street activities. Once, about ten years ago, he was hospitalized after being ambushed by a Marxist mob at a redirection point prior to a movement meeting.

Writing on Stormfront, ChristianNS noted, "Eddy was always a National Socialist within the British National Party and the National Front, swimming against the tide of anti-NS tendencies within British Nationalism after John Tyndall's death."

In one of the final issues of his online newsletter, the White Voice, he promoted the NEW ORDER's "88 Seconds of Silence" observation.

We honor Comrade Morrison's memory and his lifelong dedication to the Movement.

Chief of Staff on Canadian Podcast

NEW ORDER Chief of Staff Martin Kerr appeared on the Brian Ruhe podcast on July 23. The show is sponsored by the Thule Contemplative Society of Hitler, which is led by Comrade Ruhe.

Comrade Kerr discussed the fundamental ideas underlying the NEW ORDER. He also told how he had become involved in the Movement as a teenager. He went on to recount various activities and adventures that he personally witnessed and participated in as a member of the National Socialist White Peoples Party in the 1970s and early 1980s.

Comrade Ruhe displayed the NEW ORDER website on the screen during the interview and gave its address. As a result, a number of enquiries have been received by the Central Office from people who want further information on our Movement. We hope that some of these will become Registered Supporters.

Brian Ruhe has invited Comrade Kerr to appear on future podcasts.

Thora Hallgrimson, RIP

It is with great sadness that we announce the death of Thora Hallgrímsson (Margrét Þóra Hallgrímsson), the second wife of George Lincoln Rockwell. She passed away on August 27 of natural causes, at age 90.

Commander Rockwell was stationed in Iceland in 1953, while serving with the US Navy during the Korean War. There he met the Icelandic beauty Thora Hallgrimson at a diplomatic reception in the Norwegian embassy in Reykjavik. He was 34 and she was 22. There was an immediate mutual attraction. They were married in October of that year and honeymooned at Berchtesgaden.

Thora bore Lincoln Rockwell three children: Lincoln Hallgrimur, Jeannie Margaret and Bettina Evelyn.

In mid-1958, Commander Rockwell began his political career as an open National Socialist. At that time, Thora and the young children were living with him in a small house in Arlington, Virginia, that doubled as his headquarters. The building came under frequent attack, and fearing for the safety of his family, Rockwell agreed that she should return temporarily to Iceland until he could provide for secure accommodations for her and the children in the US. Thora belonged to one of the wealthiest families in Iceland, and once back in Reykjavik, they put enormous pressure on her to divorce Rockwell. In October, 1958, he journeyed to Iceland in an unsuccessful attempt to get her to return to the US. Finally, in 1961, she acceded to the demands of her family and formally divorced him.

The entire story of the break-up of their marriage is told in Chapter 14 of his autobiography, This Time the World, in heartbreaking detail.

Thora was the great love of Commander Rockwell's life. To the day of his death, he hoped for a reconciliation with her – but it was not to be.

She later became a leading figure in Icelandic society, and married the wealthiest man in Iceland, Bjorgulfur Guthmundsson.

There is a Wikipedia page on her:

Commander Rockwell's Children

Commander Rockwell's first wife was Judith Aultman. The couple had three daughters together: Bonnie, Nancy and Phoebe-Jean.

The NSWPP/NEW ORDER never had any contact with the children he had with Thora, who were apparently brainwashed against their father by Thora's family but we did have some limited contact with two of the three daughters he had with Judith. Two of the girls came by the headquarters in the late 1960s or early 1970s. They came by separately and at different times. Each was interested in information concerning their father. Apparently they had reached the age where it had occurred to them that all the evil things that their mother had told them about their father might not be true, and they were seeking the other side of the story. Both girls explained that they were "not political" and were not interested in being involved with the Movement. One of the daughters, however, dated a party staff member for a short while but nothing came of the relationship.

During the 1960s, Barbara von Goetz and Commander Rockwell had a romantic relationship. They vacationed together and over time she became close to Rockwell's mother. Barbara bore Commander Rockwell two daughters, Laurie Gisella and Gretchen Virginia. Both died in infancy of Werdnig-Hoffmann Syndrome, a recessive genetic condition that both parents tragically shared. Barbara was the Commander's common-law wife but he never made their marriage official, possibly because he was holding out hope that he and Thora would get back together.

Commander Rockwell's critics take glee in pointing out that his youngest daughter by Thora, Bettina, was briefly married to a Japanese man and had a child with him. Somehow, these detractors imagine, Rockwell having a half-Asian grandchild discredits the Movement. However, in fairness it must be pointed out that Commander Rockwell last saw Bettina when she was two or three years old and that he had no part in her raising. Further, the grandchild was born in 1980, 13 years after his death. All things considered, Rockwell is completely blameless in the matter, which was the consequence of the daughter being raised by his anti-NS former in-laws.
